FATE OF WUCHOW

CANTON TROOPS
'EVACUATE'

RIVER MINED
IRONSIDES MAKE HEADWAY

That the West River—a most important waterway from the point of view of Hong Kong trade—is in the course of being mined is reported from Canton, the object of the Canton Navy in so doing being to prevent inroads into Kwangtung by the forces now operating against the National Government of Nanking and, of course, against the Kwangtung Government.

In the interval, the Cantonese convey the impression that they intend to evacuate Wuchow, the Treaty port up the West River, in the east of and constituting the outlet by water of Kwangsi province. There are signs, however, that the Cantonese may fight a rearguard action in order to secure an orderly retreat.

Meanwhile the city of Canton itself has become uneasy and precautions are being taken, such being akin to those of previous times when war loomed on the horizon.

CITY GUARD DISARMED

Wuchow, Yesterday.

Evacuation of Wuchow by the Cantonese forces is taking place. The Kwangsi forces (until last week allies of the Cantonese but who have gone over to the Ironside invaders of Kwangtung) are advancing on Wuchow.

Before leaving Wuchow, General Chan Chai-tong (Commander-in-Chief of the pro-Government units) entirely disarmed the city guard. He, therefore, left Wuchow in a helpless state against possible bandit attack or internal disorder.

All should be quiet as soon as the city is occupied by the incoming Kwangsi troops (who a few weeks ago allowed the Cantonese to come up and make Wuchow the base of operations against the Ironsides). No fighting here is anticipated.

[Note: The foregoing is based on the gist of a Royal Naval despatch. Not only did the Cantonese disarm the Kwangsi guards, but they also took over full control. Yesterday, however, the Cantonese troops had begun to move out and the various headquarters were being transferred back into Kwangtung.]

WHAT CANTON EXPECTS

Canton, Yesterday.

According to various reports, Chang Fa-kuei is expected to arrive in and to occupy Canton some time during the next few days, with his Ironsides.

Already he has issued a proclamation to the Chinese Chamber of Commerce not to pay in any taxes to the present Government of Canton after October 20, as he will not acknowledge any amounts paid to them after this date and these sums will have to be paid over a second time to him, on his arrival, as from that date.

The steady drop in the Central banknotes is crippling the little trade that there is and the Chinese merchants are gloomy. Our own correspondent.

[Note: Utmost vigilance is being maintained by the Canton city authorities against enemy agents. Both the British and French Consuls of Shanghai are also on the qui vive and added precautions have been taken at both bridges connecting with the city to prevent any possible ingress, which, however, is not expected at all.]

NAVAL ACTIVITIES

[From Our Political Correspondent.] While the Cantonese military are being assembled along the West River to keep guard against the Kwangsi forces, who have turned against them and joined hands with the hitherto idle leaders of the Kwangsi military group, crushed in summer, and are simultaneously taking up positions and digging trenches west of the North River in order to meet the Ironsides, the other fighting services

"RED" ACTIVITIES IN SOUTH AFRICA

NATIVE UNREST FANNED BY THIRD INTERNATIONAL SPREADS TO RHODESIA

Pretoria, Yesterday. The Minister of Justice, Mr. Pirow, in a statement on the Durban raids, said that they had to face widespread, serious native unrest, fanned by numerous organisations, in many cases closely allied, and all cases in touch with the Communist Party, and directly and definitely instructed by the Third International. He added that it was a significant fact that native unrest was not confined to the Union, but was beginning to extend to South Rhodesia.—Reuter.

Amazing Plots

Pretoria, Later.

Mr. Justice Pirow quoted written instructions from the Third International to its friends in South Africa to "wage a struggle against native bills and all other forms of oppression in a revolutionary manner," and to conduct militant demonstrations on December 16 under the slogan "Long Live the Native Republic," and to penetrate the mines by all possible means and call a partial stoppage of work on December 14. All available organisations were to be used for this purpose. Mr. Pirow named organisations in South Africa directly or indirectly implicated in communication with the Third International, including the Communist Party, African National Congress, Natal Industrial and Commercial Workers' Unions League, and the African Rights League of anti-Imperialism.

The Government had written proof of these facts and he claimed that the object of the Government demonstrations at Durban had been fully achieved, but the lull was merely temporary. The Government would now amend the Riotous Assemblies Act to deal as soon as possible with agitators who were at the root of the trouble.

Dangerous Stage

Mr. Justice Pirow declared that it was agreed by all that the native unrest in the union had reached a dangerous stage and the police were satisfied that matters had reached a point where, unless checked, they would in 12 to 18 months' time lead to rioting by natives on a large scale, with consequent reprisals by Europeans and the introduction of a lynch law.

Seething Unrest

Describing the seething unrest in Durban before the raids, he said that the Borough Police were attacked and beaten by mobs of natives. Life and property were seriously endangered and a mobile force brought in from Marlitzburg was treated with contempt. Twelve thousand natives in the compounds flatly refused to pay the poll tax and thousands of natives in the Borough followed their example.

Liquor brewing was extensively carried on. On October 24 the mobile force rounding up poll tax defaulters was attacked by a mob of 3,000 natives. Luckily, only seven of the mobile force were injured.

The natives had formed a strong organisation for the mutual support of their case, and the police were informed that on the next raid, not a man would escape alive. A general strike of all dockworkers had been prepared, and incendiarism was threatened.—Reuter.

In the pro-Government side have been very busy.

Admiral Chan Chak has gone to Wuchow to direct naval operations against the Kwangsi forces. Mines are said to be in course of being laid in the West River to hinder any Kwangsi thrust downriver. The air corps is being despatched to the two sectors (i.e. Wuchow and North River). All passed Carabets of the Whampoa Military Academy are going up the North River to take up front line positions facing the Ironsides. Detachments from the east and south of Kwangtung are being recalled to Canton for active service.

COMMANDER IS SURE OF VICTORY

KWANGTUNG FORCES SOON TO BE "ELIMINATED"

PEOPLE MUST BE PATIENT

Canton, Yesterday. The Weekly Memorial Service on Monday was attended by a large gathering of comrades. Among those present were Chairman Chan Min-shu, C-in-C. Chan Chai-tong, General Tan Tao-yuen of the 50th Division, General Yeh Shih-shan, Vice-Divisional Commander of the 50th Division, and the representatives of various organisations, numbering over 100. The C-in-C. Chan Chai-tong presided and reported on the military situation. The following is a resume of his report:—

The Northern War

Details of the north-western war between the National troops and the Kuominchun have been clearly reported in the foreign and Chinese Presses. Tengfeng and Linhu have been captured by the National troops, while General Sun Liang-cheng and Pang Ping-huan are now surrendering. General Yen has despatched his troops in two directions to threaten the rear of the rebels. It is believed that the north-western war will be settled within the shortest time.

The Ironsides

With regard to the situation of Kwangsi, some units of the Ironsides did make an attempt to enter the vicinity of Kweilin, but seeing that Kweilin, Pinglo and Luipo were strongly defended by National troops, they dared not advance further, but retreated to Hingon and Kwongyang. In the meantime, the Government main forces have been despatched to the Su-Pak-King (Small North River) and the North River.

Brigades Mutiny

According to a report from General Lui Woon-yim in Pingnam, two brigades of his armies under Generals Heu and Fung have mutinied. The two rebellious generals are said to have been influenced by the ex-Kwangsi Generals Li Chung-yen and Huang Shao-hung, and are co-operating with the Ironsides.

Chang Fa-kuei and Hsueh Shao-hung were formerly enemies. Their co-operation is only a question of personal benefit. Chang Fa-kuei has proved himself in Kwangtung, Hupeh and Kiangsi that he is a militarist of the lawless type.

While in Hunan, the Ironsides, reduced to present 8,000 strong, were severely attacked and intercepted by the troops of General He Chien.

An Easy Task?

In order to strengthen the forces in Kwangtung, the Central Government has sent General Tan Tao-yuen of the 50th Division to the North River, and General Liu Hsiung-tung of the 56th Division to Chao-mui (Swatow district). There are in the field more than 35 regiments of troops; several times more than that of the Ironsides. It should not, therefore, be difficult to exterminate the insurgents.

Owing to the transfer of troops from various districts, the bandits have availed themselves of the opportunity to renew their baneful activities causing the people to suffer temporarily.

War to End Soon

The C-in-C. is of the firm conviction that as soon as the war ends, an event which is predicted in the shortest time, normal conditions will speedily resume. People are advised to be patient on account of this unavoidable but temporary misfortune.

Ex-Generals Li and Huang formerly had over 100,000 troops, and yet were crushed for their revolt against the Party and the Country. What can they do now, even though they are to link up with the Ironsides and the bandits? Only one fate awaits them—their elimination, as in the case of Sun Chuan-feng and Wu Pei-fu.

Certain of Victory

"In conclusion," declared the C-in-C., "this time the fight against the Ironsides is certain to be crowned with victory, and the tranquillity of Kwangtung will become as firm as a rock. There is consequently no occasion for anxiety."

Reactionary Denounced

Following this speech, General Tan and Yuch said that they belong to the Kuomintang (Northern clique), and if they gain this war, the Kuomintang will vanish. General Tan further denounced Chan Kung-pok, the reactionary, and Chang Fa-kuei for their shamelessness in allying with the Kwangsi clique generals Li and Huang, who were once their bitter enemies.

A War Veteran

Chairman Chan Min-shu delivered a brief speech to the effect that General Tan Tao-yuen of the 50th Division had participated in nearly every war since the Northern Expedition, and that his past merits will be remembered by the people. In comparison, the troops of General Tan are not inferior to those of the Ironsides. No doubt, in addition to these front troops, the National armies will be able to exterminate the rebels. It is their duty to guard the Kwangtung border without permitting the anti-revolutionaries to advance a step within the Canton New Army.

MR. INSTONE BREWER DUE TO-MORROW

BROUGHT DOWN FROM SHANG-HAI ON LOCAL WARRANT

PERJURY & LARCENY CHARGE

Mr. Instone Brewer, barrister and founder of the Instone Banking Corporation, will arrive in the Colony to-morrow by the "Empress of Russia," in the custody of Sgt. C. Mottram, who was sent to bring him back. Mr. Brewer, it will be remembered, left the Colony after having given his evidence in the public examination into the affairs of the Instone Banking Corporation. Later two warrants were sworn out for his arrest. He is alleged to have committed a breach of the Perjury Ordinance in that he filed a document false in a material particular, and a breach of the Larceny Ordinance in that he filed a balance sheet false in a material particular with intent to deceive. Mr. Brewer was subsequently arrested in Shanghai and he was kept in the Municipal Council Gaol in Amoy Road by order of H.B.M.'s Police Court pending the arrival of an officer from Hong Kong.

"Disliked Injustice"

Prior to his arrest, Mr. Brewer gave an interview to Pressmen in Shanghai. He said that he had always disliked injustice and in fighting against it, he had "tread on the corns of the authorities here." At the time he was admitted to practice at the local Bar, a barrister could appear in original and summary jurisdictions without having to be briefed by a solicitor. Later, when Mr. Brewer was in America, the law was changed. It required a barrister to receive a brief from a solicitor before he could appear in Court on behalf of a client. The new ruling, Mr. Brewer alleged, was commonly called "an Ordinance to suppress Brewer."

FAIR FOR TENNIS

This morning's weather report from the Royal Observatory states:

The anticyclone has moved to the south of Japan, and the depression has passed into the Pacific; another depression is indicated over S. Manchuria. Fresh monsoon will prevail along the S.E. coast of China, and over the China Sea. Forecast—N.E. winds, moderate, fair.

THROWN OUT OF HOUSE

BOYS STEAL BULBS TO BUY
FOOD

RELATIVES SIGN BONDS

Before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon Magistracy, to-day two Chinese boys were charged with the theft of an electric bulb from the Mei Chung Theatre, Hunghom.

Both pleaded guilty. P. C. Farrell said that the boys entered the lavatory of the cinema, where one got on the other's shoulder and extricated the bulb from its socket. The complainant had informed the Police that there had been about half a dozen of these bulbs stolen from the theatre on different dates.

The Magistrate asked the boys why they did it.

The first replied that he had been thrown out of his house by his aunt, and he had no food, so he stole with the intention of selling.

The second lad replied in the same manner, stating that he had been thrown out of the house by his sister-in-law.

However, both sister-in-law and aunt were in Court to-day, and his Worship ordered them to sign personal bonds of $25 each for the lads' good behaviour.

"MISERABLE FELLOW!"

When a Chinaman was charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy to-day with the unlawful possession, in Kenney Road, of a pine tree which he was believed to have uprooted on the hillside, his Worship remarked: "You miserable fellow, did you carry that tree away?"

Accused: Yes.

Magistrate: You did! Fifty dollars or six weeks' hard labour.

JAIL FOR BREAKING SERGT.'S FINGER

CHINESE FOKI'S STRUGGLE WITH EUROPEAN OFFICER

RESISTING ARREST

"No doubt for a man of your type it is very funny to break a European Sergeant's finger in resisting arrest. It is so funny that I think you had better have one month in prison to think it over!"

This was the stern comment made by Mr. E. W. Hamilton, this morning, in convicting one of two Chinese who were before him to answer charges arising out of a fight which occurred in Centre Street, West Point, yesterday morning.

The two accused, foks of a shop, were charged jointly with assaulting a Chinese dyer, whilst the man who got one month was further charged with resisting arrest by Police Sergeant Pockson, whose index finger on the right hand was broken in the violent struggle which the man put up to break away.

A Bad Locality

When the Magistrate learned that the shop at which the accused were employed was at 19, Centre Street he remarked: "Oh, it is next door to the lady who was selling children!"

Divisional Inspector Bloor: Yes, it is a very bad locality.

The dyer's story was that the second accused gave him a suit of clothing to dye for 20 cents but when the work was completed wanted to give him only ten cents. He refused and would not hand over the clothing, whereupon the two accused set upon him, first accused striking the first blow.

Sergeant Pockson said that he was on duty in Queen's Road West, at the junction of Centre Street when he saw a disturbance in the side street. There was a crowd but he could see the first accused striking the dyer, who did not hit back but merely defended himself. Witness did not see the second accused because he was so small.

When witness approached, first accused ran away and witness gave chase through several streets before catching him in Des Voeux Road West. Accused struggled violently to get free, and in the course of the struggle witness's index finger of the right hand broke.

Threw Him Down

By the Magistrate: Accused did not attempt to strike witness, but he tried to twist witness's arm. After witness's finger broke, he threw accused on the ground and holding him down blew his whistle for assistance.

Mr. Hamilton suggested that the Sergeant should have employed the arm lock on the accused. That was only to quieten a struggling prisoner, because if he struggled too violently he would break his own forearm.

Inspector Bloor assured his Worship that Sergeant Pockson was "well up in that." The Sergeant said that he could not employ that hold on the prisoner in the first instance because the man was seized whilst running and the struggle was spontaneous. Subsequently he did employ the arm lock in taking accused to the station.

So Frightened!

Both accused denied assaulting the dyer and the first man claimed that he did not struggle to break away from the Sergeant. Explaining the latter's injured finger, he said: "I was so frightened on being caught that I fell down. The Sergeant fell also and broke his finger."

The Magistrate told the second accused that he was the cause of all the trouble by not sticking to the bargain with the dyer, however the assault on the dyer was not a serious one, and he would let him off with a fine of $1. In addition he would have to pay 20 cents to the dyer.

To the first accused his Worship said: "The Sergeant saw you striking the complainant. The assault was over something which was not your business. You will be fined $10 or 14 days on the first count." His Worship then made the remark quoted at the top of this report: "You miserable fellow, did you carry that tree away?"

Accused: Yes.

Magistrate: You did! Fifty dollars or six weeks' hard labour.

SEQUEL TO SHARE SENSATION

ALLEGED RAMP ON STOCKBROKER

TWO "DUD" CHEQUES

Not for the first time, his Honour the Chief Justice (Sir Henry Gollan, C.B.E.) to-day criticised the Colony's Code of Civil Procedure as being novel. The occasion was a sequel to a recent sensation in the local stock market.

Mr. Leo Weill, trading as Harry O. Odell & Co., sharebroker, Exchange Building, sued Fung Chack-chow, alias C. C. Fung, described as the Hong Kong Small Investors Share & Real Estate Co., of No. 18, Ice House Street, for the recovery of $11,700 and also asked for attachment of certain property.

Mr. F. C. Jenkin (instructed by Messrs. G. K. Hall Brutton & Co.) was for plaintiff. Defendant was neither present nor legally represented.

Cement Shares

In his outline of the case, counsel said that defendant purchased 500 shares in the Green Island Cement Co., Ltd., from plaintiff on October 15; and a further 600 on October 17. These were taken delivery of on October 18.

"A ramp was practised by defendant on plaintiff," added Mr. Jenkin.

In the morning, defendant went to the local office of the Mercantile Bank of India, Ltd., and made an arrangement (in anticipation) so that the Bank would grant him an overdraft of about $7,500 against the shares. Defendant gave plaintiff two "dud" cheques, Mr. Jenkin said, for $5,800 and $5,900, respectively. "They were 'dud' in this sense—that, in fact, he had no funds to meet these cheques and could not meet them even with the overdraft."

Defendant lodged the scrip with the Bank and proceeded, almost at once, to draw out $7,250.

No more had been seen of him and, at 5 p.m. on October 18 (the day referred to) the cheques were returned to plaintiff because they could not be met.

"Presumably, defendant has fled with the money and with an associate. Mr. Weill has searched high and low for him without success," counsel continued.

Office Locked

Defendant resided occasionally at No. 9, Gage Street, where plaintiff had searched in vain. He had left that address with a lady, believed to be his wife, on October 18 and his office in Ice House Street had been locked since.

The writ in the action had been issued on October 21. Attempts were made to serve him. The writ of foreign attachment was issued on October 24 and duly advertised.

"I shall ask your Lordship to hold that the only reasonable conclusion is that defendant is concealing himself to evade these proceedings," Mr. Jenkin concluded.

In reply to his Lordship, Mr. Jenkin said that the only property discovered were the shares in question but they were subject to the Bank's lien for $7,306.

Mr. Weill's Evidence

Mr. Weill then gave evidence. He said he had been twice to defendant's residence and from 25 to 30 times to his office.

Mr. M. P. Talati, landlord of defendant's office, said that a small boy had the keys when he went there and the latter handed him the keys, and ran away when he saw a detective. The office had been locked and he (witness) had never seen defendant since. In reply to Mr. Jenkin, Mr. Talati said that as the rent was paid in advance he had been paid for October. Whereupon his Lordship observed: "Therefore, you didn't lose Mr. Talati."

Promise To Repay

Mr. Ernest Antonio, of the Mercantile Bank staff, testified that defendant had been a customer of the Bank and had had loans before. He applied at about 11 a.m. on October 18 and witness saw the manager. About 12.20 p.m., defendant came back with him and he told witness that he wished to draw $7,250 in cash. Defendant had undertaken to repay the loan in a week. Defendant had not redeemed the shares and he (witness) had not seen him since.

Mr. D. L. Stralder, solicitor for plaintiff, gave formal evidence as

FAR EAST FLIGHT

FROM SHANGHAI TO MANILA

BERT HALL

LAFAYETTE HERO
TO ACT AS PILOT

Manila, Nov. 14.—Manila is in a frenzy of enthusiasm over plans just revealed for a Shanghai to Manila flight by Nick Osmena, popular son of the President pro tem of the Philippines Senate, and Lieut. Bert Hall, world war hero and veteran of the famous Lafayette Escadrille.

Osmena is sponsoring the flight and Hall will pilot. It is expected that the trip will start within a matter of days, the flyer taking off one day and arriving the next with halts at Amoy and Aparri, northern Luzon.

WIDE INTEREST

In an editorial to-day the Manila Bulletin, leading American daily, declares that plans for the trip have aroused wide public interest.

Newspapers in Cuba and Iloilo likewise have participated in an outburst of enthusiasm, as the enterprise is looked upon as the forerunner of an era of aeronautical development which may bring about regular air mail service with the Asiatic mainland as well as an inter-island aerial link-up.

QUITE FEASIBLE

A. J. "Pop" Croft, veteran Manila aviator, is quoted by the Bulletin to-day as saying that the trip is entirely feasible. He predicted that it will prove completely successful. Paying tribute to Lieutenant Hall's aeronautical ability, Croft remarked:

"His experience has been thoroughly proved." Civil officials are planning a great reception for the flyers. It is expected that the Manila waterfront will be crowded with spectators when the planes arrive.

It is thought that the Manila landing will be near the Army and Naval Club and Colonel Alcid has arranged for a strong cordon of police to control the crowds there.

Officials of the newly organized Aviation Corporation of the Philippines are watching the plans with keen interest.—Kuomin—U. P.

REVENUE OFFICER CHARGED

Monday afternoon at 2.15 p.m. has been fixed for the hearing of the summons against Revenue Officer T. Tallon, Hong Kong, for alleged assault on an engine driver and stoker of the Kowloon-Canton Railway.

A counter-summons in which Mr. Tallon is complainant is brought against the K.C.R. men for the unlawful possession of a quantity of opium.

The case will be heard at the Kowloon Magistracy.

Mr. F. C. E. Rendall will defend while Mr. L. R. Andrews is appearing for the Crown.

There is a third defendant in this case, who is charged in connection with the opium, but not the assault.

COOL BANISHMENT

Before Mr. A. W. G. H. Grant-ham, at the Central Magistracy, to-day, a Chinese admitted the theft of a wooden box.

The Police said that the complainant had just bought the box in a shop and had left it outside for a moment when the accused coolly attempted to walk away with it. He was seized on the spot. The accused had a bad record having been banished from the Straits Settlements as an habitual criminal and automatically banished from Hong Kong on July 9 this year. Sentence of three months' hard labour was passed.

to the insertion of the requisite advertisements.

Judgment For Full Amount

His Lordship gave judgment for the full amount claimed, with costs. An order was made for execution to be issued against the attached property (the 1,000 Cement shares), subject to payment to the Mercantile Bank of $7,306 with interest. Liberty was given plaintiff to apply further subject to objections, if any, as to property not as yet attached.

A LECTURE ON JAVAIMPRESSION OF MONTH'S VISIT*LANTERN SLIDES

An interesting lecture in which impressions gained during a month's visit to Java during the Pacific Science Conference held this year, was given at the Helena May Institute last evening by Dr. G. A. C. Herklots, reader in Biology at the University of Hong Kong who attended the conference as a representative of the University.

The lecture was beautifully illustrated with a number of lantern slides showing Javanese in native costumes with gaudy sarongs. The lecturer explained that many of the natives of Java were Mohammedans and they indicated their religion by means of little fez caps.

Rikishas, the lecturer said, were prohibited in Java, and their places were taken by little hackney carriages drawn by one or two ponies. An interesting slide was shown of two natives with a travelling kitchen, whilst another depicted a large banyan tree outside the Hotel des Indes, Batavia.

Volcanic Island
Dr. Herklots then spoke of the volcanic island of Krakatau in the Sunda Straits between Java and Sumatra. He said that originally there must have been a single volcano of about 6,000 feet in height, the island having a diameter of about six miles. Further activity in the 16th and 17th centuries resulted in the breaking up of the main island into one island, length about six miles, and two smaller islands. In 1883, after tremendous earthquake and volcanic activity, the half of the larger island was blown up and all life, plant and animal, on the three islands was completely destroyed by being buried under many feet of hot ashes. Since 1883 there has been a little activity, during 1927-29 in particular, but most of this was of a submarine nature taking place in the sea between the islands.

Describing a trip to Lang Eiland and Rakata, Dr. Herklots showed a magnificent photograph of the islands at sunrise and said that from the shore to the summit of the peak there was nothing but vegetation, bare areas of rock being only visible on the precipitous northern face. The shore below the latter was covered with rocks loosed from the precipice and material thrown up from the sea. Plants with which they were all familiar grew there.

Among Coral Islands

He also showed slides illustrating an excursion to the coral islands in the Bay of Batavia and spoke of the fascination of wading about in the blue lagoons, walking on crunching coral reefs or of standing in the warm water of the open sea submerged to the shoulders and gazing downward through a glass bottomed bucket at the extraordinary sights below. Slides were also shown of an expedition made to Tjibodas in the mountains of Buitenzorg. The first part of the journey was made soon after five o'clock in the morning by train. Then a car took the party to Tjipanas, about four miles from and 1,200 feet below Tjibodas.

Dean Swann took the chair, and, in moving a vote of thanks to the lecturer, called the attention of the gathering to the journal which Dr. Herklots and Mr. A. H. Crook are producing next year on the natural history of this Colony. Someone had said it was difficult to get that journal going. If there were as many species as the hundreds that the prospective authors had described, it was obvious that that journal could go for many years, given sufficient support. He (the speaker) was sure that the audience would give that support. (Applause.)

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETYACTIVITIES OF PAST YEAR REVIEWED*HELP TO THE POOR

The annual report of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, which has just been circulated, makes interesting reading. In it the Society's work for the poor during the past year is reviewed in details, and those who had contributed toward the Society's funds will no doubt be interested to know how the money was expended.

Trade Depression

The report reads:—
The Society thanks the generous public of Hong Kong for their continued support of the charitable work of the Society among the poor of this Colony. Compared with the previous year there was a falling off, amounting to $899.32, in the net proceeds of the Al Fresco Fete and the "Our Poor Day" sale of Roses, but, in view of the general business depression which prevailed at the time, and the increasing number of other appeals to charity which mark the end of each year, the Committee feel that they have every reason to be grateful for the support extended to them, and accept it as a tribute to the good work of the Society on behalf of the Colony's poor and an indication of the confidence which for over half a century the public has bestowed on the Society in its disbursement of the funds thus placed at its disposal.

For this generous support the Central Council desires to express its cordial thanks on behalf of all who worked so hard and so devotedly for the success of "Our Poor Day" and the Fete. The Society is gratefully indebted to Mr. E. D. da Rosa, A.S.A.A., for auditing the accounts.

Income Falling Off

The net proceeds of the "Our Poor Day" Sale of Roses and the Fete held last December amounted to $11,439.78, representing a further falling off of $1,209.06 on the 1927 figures as set out in the Statement on the first page of this Report, and $2,043.38 on the receipts from the same two efforts at the end of 1926.

It has accordingly been necessary to effect considerable economies during the first nine months of 1929 in the various charitable works undertaken by the Society, except in relief of money and provisions, on which it was felt that no reduction could be made without inflicting hardship on the poor under the Society's care.

159 Families Helped

The expenditure for relief in money and provisions for the first nine months of 1929 was $4,976.60 as against $4,802.65 for the same period in 1928. The Society has also, during the nine months expended $161.50 in providing shoes and clothing for poor children and $128.48 for medical aid.

The above sum of $4,976.60 was expended on the maintenance of 169 families comprising 260 persons, irrespective of race, nationality or creed 1,136 visits were made to the poor in their homes.

Houses for the Poor

The expenditure for housing and accommodation during the whole of 1928 amounted to $2,156.24, while for the nine months January to September 1929 the expenditure was $1,533.95, of which $269.00 represents grants made in special cases of temporary destitution. The continued trade depression, with the consequent increase in the number of unemployed, is still—as recorded in the last annual report—causing the Society no little anxiety in the matter of the housing of the poor.

Chinese Helped

The education of the children of the poor has always, in all countries been among the first works of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. In accordance with this policy Chinese children are afforded every opportunity of gaining a good grounding in their own language, after which according to their aptitude, they are either taught a trade or sent to St. Joseph's College for an English education.

For the purpose of providing in the first instance, a five-year course in Chinese, the Society maintains the Kai Lap School for Boys at Wanchai, and assists the Tak Ying School for Girls, also at Wanchai by paying the fees of a number of the poorer girls attending this school. During the nine months January to September 1929 the subsidy to the Kai Lap School amounted to $720.00. During the same period $371.50 was paid by the Society in school fees for girls at the Tak Ying School.

$3,600 for Education

Under the head of Education the Society spent during the nine months January to September, 1929, $218 for books and stationery, and $36.00 on tram, bus and ferry fares for poor children living at a distance from school. During the same period the expenditure on tuition or board and tuition for poor children in English schools was $1,282.80. The total expenditure on education in 1928 was $3,618.12.

The St. Louis Industrial School at West Point, conducted by the Salesian Fathers, continues to be of considerable assistance to the Society in solving, to a great extent, the problem of finding work for the children of the poor. Before the establishment of this school these boys had no qualifications to fit them for any but the most menial work. Now, under the care of the Salesian Fathers, they are taught shoe-making, tailoring, carpentry, printing and other trades.

A contribution of $100 has been made by the Society to this school this year. It is regretted that the state of the Society's funds has not permitted the provision of a larger grant towards the splendid work which these good Fathers are doing for the children of the Colony's poor.

St. Joseph's Home

As stated in the last annual report, this Home was assisted to the extent of about $2,000 per annum by the Society before it was taken over by the Little Sisters of the Poor. As the rules of their Order oblige these Sisters to beg each day for the maintenance of their charges, and do not allow them to have any fixed income, the Society has not been called on to make any regular allowance to the Home during the period under report. A special grant of $100 was, however, made and $200 was given as a donation at Christmas.

Gratitude Expressed

The Council desires again to express its gratitude for the assistance given to the Society by this Home in receiving, as accommodation permits, a number of aged poor for whom, owing to their advanced age and feeble health, the Society is not in a position to provide the comforts which are found at the Home.

The Home is situated in large premises and extensive grounds at Ngau Chi Wan, near Kowloon City, and the public are again reminded that the good Rev. Mother is always glad to receive visitors and show them over the place.

In submitting this brief summary of the Society's work during the year the Council again appeals with confidence to the generous Public of Hong Kong—both on the occasion of the Street Sale of Roses on "Our Poor Day," Monday, December 2, and at the Al Fresco Fete, which will be held on December 8. The Society depends almost entirely on these two public appeals for the maintenance and extension of its work among the poor of this Colony.

INEQUITABLE ACTS

The master of the junk who was one of the rescued gave information to the Police on his arrival here. He alleged that after the collision the steamer did not stop to render assistance. On account of the darkness at the time of the collision, the immigrant was unable to ascertain the name of the steamer.

A remarkable apparatus for timber sorting, stacking and counting on ships has been invented by Mr. L. Anfinset, a Norwegian engineer and contractor. One of these machines for demonstration purposes has been installed, by permission of the P. L. & S. Co., at the wharves of those who have seen it in action have been impressed by the speed and efficiency of the operation. Boards of various lengths, width and thickness placed in the machine are carried by the moving stock, over a head conveyor from the quayside to the shed and then deposited mechanically and accurately at the stacks to which they assigned according to size. It is greatly to be noted that there is a difference of one sixteenth of an inch in each of the work. The machine has been experimented with successfully at Mr. Anfinset's works in Norway. Though, for reasons of space, only one machine is shown in the London for demonstration purposes, the machine, when working at its full capacity, is fitted with four conveyors, by means of which the timber can be transported, if necessary, to the required positions. The feeders of the conveyors, as the timber is lifted from the ship, is the work of four men, and is adapted to receive timber of any length or thickness, the timber on the stacks. The cost, it is stated, of taking the timber from the slings alongside, transporting, sorting, stacking and counting is 1s. 6d. per 100 ft. of timber. The dimensions of the machine are 20 ft. by 2 in. by 5 in. The capacity of one side of the conveyor dealing with timber of this size is five standards per hour. The speed of the conveyor is 300 ft. a minute. The dimensions of the timber would pass on each side of the conveyor per minute, 24,000 ft. could be handled in an hour on a double conveyor. The average capacity of the conveyors is 15 standards per night hour. In view of the congestion to shipping from time to time through delay at the quayside, this new method of handling timber is certain to be welcomed by the merchants and port authorities alike.

The agenda for the Maritime Session of the International Labour Conference, at the question of the regulation of hours at sea—in other words, the provision of an eight-hour day—though turned down by the Conference held at Geneva in 1920, was to be revived. A far more practicable proposal which was to be considered by the Commission, looks like obtaining the support of shipowners and seamen alike from every country anxious for still greater safety at sea, is that contained in a report just issued by the International Labour Office relating to the difficulties of employing merchant and navigating officers in the Mercantile Marine. The desirability of establishing, as far as possible, international regulations for a minimum requirement of professional competency is suggested, and to this end the Commission of the International Draft Convention considers necessary. "It is not sufficient," as the report points out, "that the rules of the road at sea should be fixed internationally, but steps must also be taken to ensure that the navigators and officers are familiar with those rules and are capable of applying them. The safety of life at sea, as well as the professional interests of Mercantile Marine officers, requires that their profession should be confined to those whose competence is guaranteed by official and searching tests." The above is the subject on the agenda for discussion is an indirect consequence of the collision which occurred in August, 1922, between the French liner "Lotus" and the Turkish collier, "Boz-kovik," resulting in the loss of the latter vessel and eight lives. The penalties imposed by the Central Government of Constantinople were based on the ground that both the officers concerned had failed to observe the provisions of the International Collision Regulations. Other proceedings followed, and the question of compensation, and the question of jurisdiction, was referred to the Permanent Court of International Justice. Arising out of the decision given, and with a view to removing the consequences of the conflicts of law and jurisdiction, the International Mercantile Marine Officers' Association, and the International Association of professional interests of seamen, invoked the assistance of the International Labour Office. There should be an interesting discussion at the Conference, which is representative Conventions in time for submission to the Maritime Conference next year. So far, only British shipping has everything to gain, it goes without saying, if the standard of requirement for navigating officers required for all countries to that demanded by the British Board of Trade.

Two other questions which the Maritime Session of the International Labour Conference will discuss are the promotion of seamen's welfare in port, and the protection of seamen in cases of accident, injury, or death, and treatment of seamen injured on board ship. A report has been issued on each of these subjects and, as is usual with the International Labour Office, a vast amount of information has been collected from all maritime countries. Some nations pay much more heed than others to the provision of accommodation for seamen when in port. The report there is very large, for example, there is only one seamen's hostel of any consequence—those at Dunkerque, Bordeaux and Marseilles.

TREATY PORTS

Conference of Shanghai
Provisional Court

Nanking, Yesterday.
The conference regarding the Shanghai Provisional Court, scheduled to open today, has been postponed. None of the Powers' delegates have arrived here, and a disagreement has also arisen as regards the qualifications of certain of them.
Last week the Foreign Ministry received a telegram from Oudendijk stating that Britain, France, Japan, the United States, and Brazil, were sending delegates, but there would be no
representative from the Netherlands.
The Foreign Office wired to Oudendijk
the next day requesting that new delegates be appointed, instead of those selected from the Consular Body in Shanghai, and that Japan should not be represented. So far, there has been no reply.

The reason that Japan is not invited is reported to be that her Treaty with China has expired, and inviting her would have meant inviting other countries in a similar position.

Awaiting Instructions

Peking, Yesterday.
Regarding the postponement of the Provisional Court Conference, it is now learned that delegates of the Powers are at present in Shanghai, ready to enter the conference. However, the Waikhaopu's point regarding the qualifications of some delegates, after discussion by the Diplomatic Body, has been referred to the Government concerned.
Hence, the delegates at Shanghai
are waiting for further instructions.—

ITALIAN ART

Special Ship To Transport Masterpieces

Rugby, Yesterday.
The work of collecting masterpieces
from British collections for the exhibition of Italian Art to be held in London in the early months of next year will begin on Monday. A specially constructed ferry will be used for the purpose of conveying 180 of these pictures for assembly at Burlington House.

A special ship provided by the Italian Ministry of Marine will leave Genoa next month with 350 great works of art valued at some £7,000,000
that Italy is lending for the Exhibition, which will probably afford the most complete survey of Italian art ever brought together. The vessel will travel close to the coast, so that in the event of choppy weather she will be able to shelter in the nearest port.

These masterpieces are now being cleaned and packed in double-lined cases at Milan, and they will be under a strong guard all the way to Britain.
At London Dock they will pass into the care of Scotland Yard officers, who will guard the sealed vans when bringing them to the Exhibition.—British Wireless Service.

"L.G.'S" NEW ROLE

Succeeds "T.P." As
"Father" of the House

Rugby, Yesterday.
Mr. Lloyd George, who has been a member of the House of Commons
since 1890, has, owing to the death of Mr. T. P. O'Connor, become "father of the House."
Mr. O'Connor had been a member since 1890. Next in seniority to Mr.
Lloyd George is Sir Austen Chamberlain, who became a member of Parliament in 1892, and has been a member ever since.
Mr. O'Connor's successor as President of the British Board of Film Censor will be selected by a meeting representative of various sections of the trade, by which the Board is organized. The Censorship is quite unofficial and there is no Government control.—Reuter.

FIERCE FIGHTING

Coal Mines at Chalmair
Damaged

Peking, Yesterday.
It is learned from Harbin that fierce fighting is going on in the Manchull region. It is reported that Manchull and the coal mines at Chalmair have been badly damaged by gunfire and aeroplane bombs. Trains are now running no further than Harbin.
An unconfirmed report states that Manchull is now in Soviet hands, and colour appears to be lent to this rumour by the fact that all communications between Harbin and Manchull ceased since Sunday. Even wireless communication with the Chinese military headquarters in the Manchull area has stopped.—Reuter.

HONG KONG TIDE

The tide-table given below has been obtained by aid of the Tide-predicting Machine, which includes 40 components for the better prediction of tides, from the result of the analysis of the tidal observations,
taken at the Kowloon tidal observatory under the direction of Dr.
Dobereck during the years 1887, 1888
and 1889.

The times and heights are given for Kowloon; but they may be used for the Victoria Naval Yard and Aberdeen, the differences being very small.
The times of high and low-water must not be considered to coincide with the times of slack-water and change of current, the two phenomena being quite distinct.

THE COAL TROUBLE

One effect of the long Parliamentary recess, it was supposed,
would be to give the new Government time to prepare its plans for bringing about that great amelioration in social conditions at Home which it was elected to effect. It was not quite clearly recognised that trouble does not wait for either Ministers or Parliaments, and that the long recess would be a time in which trouble would be accumulating and gathering momentum.

We are now beginning to perceive that truth in various connections, but especially in regard to the mining industry.
The miners' leaders, having failed disastrously in the "industrial action" of 1920, apparently thought they had nothing to do but resort to "political action,"
and so soon as a Labour Government came into office they would get all they wanted.

The Labour politicians, needing the miners' vote, were at no pains to disillusion them before the Election, and ever since the Election the Government has been in the painful position of being held to an understanding which it knew to be impracticable and ruinous.

The Government has already had to make it clear that it cannot simply institute a return to the seven-hour day. It is offering as a compromise to make a beginning with some reduction of hours—say, to seven and a half—and, along with this, "various other concessions are talked of."
Nationalisation of royalties, of insurance, and international agreements on production and labour conditions are mentioned, besides an attempt to induce the mine-owners to co-ordinate their selling schemes on a national basis.

As for the first two of these,
the miners' leaders know very well that they would produce no immediate results so far as they are concerned, and as to the third, even if the owners were willing, which is more than doubtful, it is not at all certain that it would command a majority in the House of Commons, where questions would certainly be asked as to whether and to what purpose the domestic consumer would be represented on a board for fixing prices.

The miners' leaders, however,
want much more. They insist, as they have always insisted, on having the industry organised on a national basis, which would restore power to the Federation;
they want a national minimum wage agreement; they want pensions for miners at 60, and so on.

The Government is assuredly far from being in a position,
even if it were anxious, to concede all these demands. On the other hand, it cannot afford to alienate the miners.

Now that Parliament has met,
it will not have its troubles far to seek.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A Chinese named Wong Shuk
(56), a street coolie, was found dead at 10 o'clock yesterday hanging from a tree in Kennedy Road. The Police suspect suicide.

The "China Mail" has received from Messrs. Ellis and Edgar their interesting monthly booklet for October showing the quotations of local and other stocks on the Stock Exchange.

Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon
Magistracy to-day, remanded a Hakka boy, 14 years of age, for 24 hours, pending enquiries concerning his livelihood. He admitted cutting wild trees on the hillside at Kowloon City.

Mention was again made at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning of the case in which a Chinese carpenter, Ngai Yip-chiu of 188 Sai Yung Choi Street is charged with harbouring a Chinese girl, aged 20,
at Sha Po Road, Kowloon City.
The Magistrate remanded the case for a week. The defendant is on bail of $500, being personal bond given by a friend.

Eighteen Chinese were arrested by the Police for gambling on the ground floor of 55, Hollywood Road.
When the case was called before Mr.
A. W. C. H. Grantham, at the Central Magistracy, to-day one of the men was absent and his bail of $5 was ordered to be estreated. The other 17 who admitted gambling were fined $1 each. The Magistrate ordered $4.50, which was picked up from the gambling table, to be placed in the poor box.

ST. ANDREW'S

First Practice Reel For Ball

The first practice dance in connection with the St. Andrew's Society
Ball which is to be held on November 29, took place in the Peninsula Hotel roof garden last evening, when nearly 350 people were present. Refreshments were served during the evening in the Rose Room adjoining the garden.

Dances on the programme, included
the "Eighty-one Reel," Strathpey Reel, Caledonian and Highland Schottische,
in addition to fox trots and a waltz.
The Scottish music was supplied by four pipers and drummers of the King's Own Scottish Borderers, whilst the hotel orchestra played for the fox trots and waltz. Small booklets containing revised hints on Scottish dances and the Lancers were distributed. The next practice dance will be held next Tuesday.

MEN, WOMEN, AND AFFAIRS

Promoted To Colonel: A Riviera Villa: Famous Prima Donna: Queer Fish: Fought Under Father:
F. E. Weatherly

A Distinguished Son
LIEUT. COL. R. D. Ormsby,
C.B.E., who has been promoted to be Colonel Second Commandant of the Plymouth Division,
Royal Marines, is the son of Mr.
R. D. Ormsby, a former Director of "Public Works," Hong Kong.
He qualified as a naval staff officer in 1913, and during the War served afloat in command of the R.M. contingents in the battleship "Africa" and the cruiser
"Courageous," until his appointment in 1917 as Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General of the Royal Marine Force in the Aegean Islands. He was 50 years of age on October 9.

Lord Aberconway's Villa
HAVING declared that the outlook
in the coal trade is less gloomy than it has been since 1920, Lord Aberconway will be able to get out to spend the winter months in the South of France with a lighter heart.
He owns one of the most magnificent villas on the Riviera, the Chateau de la Garoupe, near Antibes.
Though he frequently lets it out last spring Lady Xale, widow of the "Jute King," and her daughter were in residence. However, the Lady Chateau de la Garoupe has a series of grounds stretching down to the sea, where there is a golf course,
a tennis court, a private theatre, and a large swimming pool. The villa is situated in a beautiful spot, and is only a few minutes' ride from the train station.

Dame Nellie Melba
FAMOUS prima-donnas are apt to take an unconscionable time in retiring, and Adeline Patiti's "last"
appearance occurred with a frequency that became almost ludicrous.
But Dame Nellie Melba has stuck rigidly to her word, and since that memorable night at Covent Garden,
when, in the presence of the King and Queen, she bade a fond and floral farewell to her admirers, London has not heard, in a professional sense, the great Australian soprano.
Fortunately, however, she consents to emerge in the cause of charity, and that is the reason for her appearance at the Brighton Hippodrome.
Dame Nellie's voice still has, it seems, a strength and purity, and her energy is so abundant that she could have remained on both the operatic and concert stages with undiminished glory. But she has amassed a considerable fortune, and has well earned a rest.

"Sea Monks"
THE "Shanghai" says that two strange-looking fish were seen by people near the Wooning Fort one afternoon. They were as large as two "round tables" and of grey colour.
At first they were seen near the Fort, but later, in the Whangpoo River, on Wooning Island. A number of nets were thrown into the river of catching them, but the two fish-men disappeared. However, the fish appeared at about 5 p.m., and soon disappeared once more. According to the statements made by the fishermen, one of the two fish was a female, and the other a male, and they were very large. The fish were seen at the mouth of the river, and were very strange-looking.

WORE STOLEN PANTS

Detective's Lucky Search For Theft

Lui Wah (22), unemployed was at the Kowloon Magistracy to-day before Mr. W. Schofield arraigned on two charges of theft of clothing from two Chinese folks
at 632 and 638, Canton Road.

Detective-Sergeant F. W. Fowle said that the accused was arrested by a detective in Parkes Street. When searched he had $18 and the stolen clothing on him, a pair of trousers of which he was actually wearing. Asked where he lived he replied that his house was at 77, Reclamation Street but when he was taken
there no body knew him.

Later he admitted that he had stolen the articles and, as he had five pawn tickets, a visit on the pawnshops disclosed that he had pawned two pieces of clothing.

As he had served two months'
hard labour in August for theft
the Magistrate passed sentence of three months' jail, on each charge
the terms to run concurrently.

FOOTBALLER WED IN KOWLOON

CEREMONY IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

BISHOP—HANSEN

At St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, yesterday, was celebrated, this afternoon, the wedding of the young couple, Mr. C. B. Bishop, of the Public Works Department, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bishop, of Negatide, Surrey, England, and Miss Marjorie M. Hansen, of 16,
Stanley Terrace, Quarry Bay, younger daughter of Mr. J. E. Hansen, of Tai-koo Docks, and the late Mrs. Hansen.
The Rev. C. B. Hansen officiated, and Mr. R. Baldwin, A.T.C.L., was at the organ. The hymns, "O Perfect Love" and "Thine for Ever," were played during the ceremony, whilst
Mr. R. M. McKeown sang the solo
"All Joy be Thine."
The bride who was given away by her father was charmingly attired in a dress of ivory tulle with pearl trimmings, and train of the same material lined with gold lame and embroidered with pearls. Her veil was of 150 years old Limerick lace, lent by her relative, Mrs. T. Cooper, of Sydney, Australia. She carried a bou-quet of white roses.

The three pretty bridesmaids included the bride's cousin, Miss Dorothy Hutchings, who with Miss Nellie Lily came up from Australia for the ceremony. The other was Miss Betty Loring. They all wore dresses of tulle over satin in pastel shades of green, mauve and lemon with frilled full skirts, and picture hats to match.
Their bouquets were of coloured flowers which matched their dresses. In addition to the bridesmaids there were two flower girls, the Misses Rhodie Stalker and Dorothy Woodward, whose dresses were of tulle in blue and pink,
respectively, with full frilled skirts edged with silver ribbon, and they wore mob caps.

Mrs. G. F. Hutchings, the bride's aunt, who had also come from Australia for the wedding, was the Matron of Honour. She wore a black lace frock with Vandyke skirt and black velvet hat, and carried a bouquet of maroon chrysanthemums.

The duties of best man were carried out by Mr. L. Goldman, whilst Messrs.
W. Kay and G. E. R. Divett were the groomsmen.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Peninsula Hotel where a large number of well-wishers enthusiastically drank the toast to the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop are going to Baguio, P.I., for their honeymoon.
The bride's travelling dress is a lido blue ensemble of crepe de Chine, with coat trimmed with white fur and hat

NAVAL ATTACHE

Appointment To China And Japan

Captain M. G. B. Legge, D.S.O., has been appointed Naval Attache to his Majesty's Missions in China and Japan, in succession to Captain C. V. Robinson. The transfer of duties will take place about February 12, 1924.

Captain Legge's last appointment was as Captain (D.) in command of the Second Destroyer Flotilla, Mediterranean, which he vacated at the end of last year. He served in China during 1922-24 as senior officer in the Upper Yangtze.

NO RIGHT TO GRIN!

In the course of a case at the Central Magistracy, to-day Mr.
E. W. Hamilton saw a Chinese laughing in the well of the Court.
He ordered Court Sergeant Ralech
to "bring the man up."

His Worship: "What do you mean by sitting there grinning.
Have you got a case?"

The man replied that he was merely listening.

The Magistrate: "Have you no
work to do?"

The laughter: "Yes, I work in the market."

The Magistrate: "All right then,
go back."

The humbist did not wait to be told a second time!

PRIVY COUNCIL
QUASHES CONVICTIONDOCTOR FREED ON CHARGE OF SHOOTING WIFE

TRIAL WITHOUT JURY

Rugby, Yesterday. Five Law Lords sitting at a Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, which is the highest court in the land, concluded today the hearing of the appeal of Dr. Benjamin Knowles against his conviction in Ashanti for the murder of his wife, Harriet Knowles, who was formerly a Music hall artist, known as Madge Clifton.

Lord Sankey, the Chancellor, announced the decision of the court in the following words, "We propose humbly to advise His Majesty to allow the appeal and quash the conviction. Our reasons will be given later."

Dr. Knowles was convicted and sentenced to death in November last year by the Acting Circuit Judge, Mr. A. K. Kumasi. Sentence was afterwards commuted by the Governor of the Gold Coast to imprisonment for life. Dr. Knowles obtained leave to appeal to the Privy Council and was brought to England. He is at present lying ill in Maidstone prison.

The questions before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council were whether there was jurisdiction to try the case without a jury, and whether the verdict was justified by the evidence. According to the evidence, Mrs. Knowles was shot with a revolver while she and Dr. Knowles were in their bedroom at their bungalow. According to a dying statement made by Mrs. Knowles put in at the trial, the affair was an accident, caused by her sitting on the revolver. The prosecution contended that this statement was made by Mrs. Knowles to shield her husband.—British Wireless Service.

"TELLING LIES"

Student Refuses To Pay Fare

"I think you are telling lies all through," said Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon Magistracy to-day, when a Chinese student was charged, with avoiding payment on a Kowloon Motor Bus Co's vehicle in Prince Edward Road.

It was stated that the defendant, when asked by the conductor for his fare, just nodded his head in the presence that he had a monthly ticket. In Nathan Road, however, an Inspector boarded the bus, and proceeded to examine all the passengers' tickets. When he came to the defendant, he was also answered with a nod. But the Inspector demanded to see his monthly ticket.

The defendant replied that he had not got it with him and gave his name to the Inspector. Still suspicious the lad was detained and taken to the Company's Office where it was ascertained that the name given to the Inspector was bogus. He was accordingly arrested.

The student answered that he had offered his fare to the conductor but he refused it!

Police Lance-Sergeant Carruthers pointed out that nothing of the head signifying the possession of a monthly ticket was a common practice. His Worship convicted the defendant and fined him $10, and ordered him to pay the 6 cents fare which he had refused.

SMOKE NUISANCE

Complaint From Shamshui-po Police Station

The case, in which Mr. Hung Chang U of 10, Ki Lung Street, Shamshui-po, was summoned with not complying with a Magistrate's order personally to abate a nuisance at his factory, was at the Kowloon Magistracy to-day, adjourned sine die.

Sanitary Inspector A. C. Sinton, stated that the defendant's factory for the last few days had stopped work and might remove from its present premises. The last inspection of the chimney, the cause of the nuisance with its thick black bellows of oily smoke, was made by him on October 23. A slight improvement had been made in the stoking of the fire, but it still caused a nuisance to the Shamshui-po Police Station and surrounding district.

The Magistrate (Mr. Schofield) in granting the application, stated that should the nuisance still exist the case could be recalled and dealt with by him.

EARTHQUAKE SHAKES
NEW YORKDESTRUCTION OF TRANS-ATLANTIC CABLES

FLATS AND HOUSES ROCKED

New York, Yesterday. The earthquake shocks resulted in the breaking 10 out of 21 trans-Atlantic cables. The damage occurred between New York and Newfoundland and New York and the Azores. Cable ships are rushing to the scene, but it is expected that a fortnight will be required to restore normality.—Reuter's American Service.

Crockery Rattles
New York, Yesterday. There were sharp earthquake shocks yesterday afternoon on the New England coast from Boston to Maine, also throughout Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and parts of East Quebec. No damage was done. Tall apartment houses swayed, and crockery rattled in New York City.

Chimney Fall
Halifax, N.S., Yesterday. Earthquake tremors have caused chimneys to fall in various maritime centres. There was something like a panic in the swaying office buildings. Employees rushed into the streets and several fainted. The seismograph at Dalhousie University was put out of commission, preventing a full record of the tremors, which lasted two minutes.

Submarine cables were put out of action off Newfoundland, indicating that submarine disturbances originated the shocks.—Reuter's American Service.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Old Woman Killed By Motor Car

A report was made to the Tai-po Police Station yesterday that an old Chinese woman was killed by a motor car in which Col. E. D. Matthews was the occupant.

It appeared that Col. Matthews and a friend were returning from Fanling, and while passing through the Tai-po district, they noticed an old woman making an attempt to cross the road. They slowed down in order that she might have time to cross over, but the woman changed her mind and made straight toward the car which was then going at a very slow pace. She was knocked down and killed.

Enquiries made by the Police showed that the driver was not to be blamed.

PITY FOR POLICE

No More Cold Feet For
The Inspector

Canton.—It will be remembered that some time ago, Gen. Auyeung Kue, the Head of the Bureau of Public Safety gave a special order to the police inspectors of the various stations requiring them to be at the stations at night during the winter precaution which has started at the beginning of this month.

In order to find out whether or not his order is being strictly enforced, the Police Head is now personally visiting the stations in the various districts in the city, after midnight.

FIGHT IN BATHROOM

Entering the bathroom of a house at Kowloon City Road without permission, led to a fight, and this morning two Chinese were charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy with causing a disturbance.

Second accused said that he was having a bath when the first man entered without his consent, and naturally, words followed which led to blows.

The Magistrate bound both over to keep the peace for six months.

THE "CHUNG SHAN"

Canton.—The aeroplane, "Chung Shan" which had arrived in the city from the capital, a few days ago, flew to Wuchow on an important mission for the Provincial Government.

The plane which had been sent here specially by the Central Government to strengthen the local Air Force, was commanded by Col. Tin Hay with Flying Officer Yeung Ngai-fung, Mechanic Lau Woon-yau, and Mr. Lau Chik-yin of the Canton Aviation Bureau.

It is reported that the Central Authorities will shortly send another three planes to assist the local Bureau in its activity against the reactionaries.

A surprising feature of the returns of the Registrar-General for the year 1928, was that the number of marriages registered was less than the number of divorces. The Registrar-General stated that the number of marriages registered was 1,000, and the number of divorces was 1,001.

CHANGES IN CODE
MESSAGESNEW REGULATIONS NOW IN FORCE: WIDER VOCABULARY

SCRAPPING OLD SYSTEMS

New regulations governing the use of code words in telegrams and cablegrams have come into force at Home. The old text of a word was pronounceability, a subjective rule which the cable companies complained had ceased to work fairly because of the ingenious feats of the tongue achieved by code-makers. So the International Telegraph Conference last year decided that in future the number of vowels was to be the criterion of respectability. In future code-words containing six, seven, or eight letters are to contain at least two vowels, while those of nine or ten letters must have three. Offending words will have to pay a surcharge. Besides defining what makes a code "word," the conference also decreed that in future there should be six vowels, for as far as code is concerned the half-vowel "Y" is to be given the benefit of the doubt.

Familiar Codes
This change in the rules will lead to the scrapping of many of the old familiar codes, both because many of the words they contain will now be surcharged as two words and also because the new regulations give the code compilers a very greatly enlarged vocabulary. Under the old regulations the maximum number of words available was 90,000; to-day 143,000 can be used. Obviously this gives an opportunity for greater economies in use; far more phrases, and even sentences, can be provided with a single code equivalent which allows cable charge to be considerably reduced.

Code, of course, is often employed for reasons of secrecy, but more generally its use is due to considerations of cost, as may be seen from the fact that most firms do not bother to code their inland telegrams or even messages to Belgium and France, where the rate is only 2½d. a word. An idea of how great the saving can be is to be gathered from the fact that one of the new codes, the "New Standard," compiled by Mr. H. G. Telling, who made many of the piece-goods codes used in Lancashire, only costs five guineas. This code gives all the general business and market phrases, currencies, measurements, and so on, and also includes for the first time in a public code the names of 10,000 steamers—all those of 3,000 or over gross tonnage on Lloyds Register, in fact. But it does not deal with specialized trade terms of interest to one industry only. Cotton, for instance, has only a mere handful of code-words for its infinite varieties. This is to be met by the publication of special public supplements for all the big industrial groups.

Costly Private Codes
In contrast to the cheapness of the public codes there are the exceedingly expensive private codes used by most of the large firms, which normally cost well over £1,000 to make, but which also soon pay for themselves in use. These codes also will require revision in many cases, so that the various code-making companies should enjoy a small trade boom in the near future. To such a large extent are private codes used that on many nights the London cable companies handle more private than public code messages. Most big users of codes have to buy all the public codes as well as a private one for it is never possible to be certain what code a customer or correspondent may use.

When a private code is being made the makers employed carefully tabulate all the telegrams sent and received by their clients during the past few years. In this way it is possible to find what words and phrases are commonly used and those which hardly ever occur. In this way a suitable code for the particular firm can be used. When a general public code is being made the particulars gained from many private ones are compared and collated, and the greatest common measure is used as a guide.

The "Manchuria Daily News" of November 11 reports that the previous day two empty cars, each of half ton capacity, dropped one after another upon an elevator that contained about a dozen people and was at the bottom of the 600 ft. shaft at the Oyama Shaft, Fushun collieries. Seven people were killed outright and five others were injured seriously. A defect in the safety appliances was the cause.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grace Dymond, wife of Mr. L. D. Dymond, the Tientsin representative of Reuters, died suddenly at four o'clock last Saturday afternoon in Tientsin, reports the "Peking Leader" of November 12. The cause of death was given as the clotting of blood in the heart. News of her death came as a distinct shock, as Mrs. Dymond was thought to have been getting along nicely since the birth of her twin babies a few days ago.

Mr. Chao Tieh-chiao, managing-director of the China Merchants S. N. Co., in an interview granted to Chinese pressmen, said that it was difficult to find out the exact number of shares in the company held by the descendants of the late Sheng Kung-pao as many of these had not been registered in the name of members of the family because of the confiscation of the properties. However, Mr. Chao said, up to the present it has been found that about 20,000 shares valued at $2,000,000 are now held by the Sheng family.

The Kiangsu Provincial Government having refused to allocate funds for the upkeep of the Shanghai District Public Safety Bureau on the ground that the magistracies of other cities which are not so rich as Shanghai are able to derive funds for the upkeep for their respective bureaux, the Director of Public Safety has petitioned the Magistrate for the payment of wages due to his subordinates without further delay. These wages have not been paid for the last two months and the police have been forced to pawn their clothing to maintain themselves.

Physicians advise:

"Take Sanatogen to regain New Strength"

For more than 30 years physicians all over the world have prescribed Sanatogen whenever they had to combat nervous debility or general weakness in their patients.

No wonder! Sanatogen is an ideal strength-creating food, containing exactly those elements—phosphorus and albumin—which are nature's building material for Health and Strength.

Just think what a course of Sanatogen would mean to your health. Sanatogen will make you feel fit and energetic, able to withstand life in a hot climate without undue fatigue or illness. Sleeplessness, loss of appetite, irritability—all those signs of weak nerves will quickly disappear once you have started building up new nerve-strength with Sanatogen.

Start with a course of this famous tonic food to-day, then you will regain real, lasting health within a few weeks.

A NEW EUROPEAN EMPIRE

PLANS FOR DOMAINS AS WIDE AS CHARLEMAGNE'S

FOCH SUPPORTS GERMANS

The Havas Agency has issued a statement by Herr Arnold Rechberg about his famous scheme for a Franco-German industrial, military, and political alliance, about which he had conversations with M. Poincaré and other French politicians of the Right. He proposed that the German Army should be recruited, equipped, and armed in the same way as the French, and that its numbers should be in the proportion of three to five to those of the French Army, the two armies to be under the control of a Joint General Staff composed of French and German Generals. Belgium and Poland were to be attached to the Franco-German military alliance, and France and Germany were jointly to guarantee the Polish frontiers on condition that Poland should restore to Germany Danzig and the Polish Corridor. Upper Silesia was to remain Polish, but there was to be a combination of German and Polish industrial interests. Herr Rechberg also suggested that France should withdraw her opposition to the Anschluss between Austria and Germany, but this appears not to have been a sine qua non.

Herr Rechberg asserts that France and Germany could thus, without firing a gun, re-establish an empire like that of Charlemagne, but at the same time declared that the proposed alliance would not be directed against any other Power.

Against Russia?

The most interesting statement made by Herr Rechberg is that the conditions of the proposed Franco-German military alliance were first sketched out in a conversation that he had a few years ago with Marshal Foch, who was favourable to such an alliance. If this was so, it is another indication that, whatever Herr Rechberg may say, the alliance was intended to be directed against Russia. Marshal Foch publicly complained in a newspaper interview last year that he had not been allowed to make war on Russia, and it will be remembered that he was opposed to the abolition of conscription in Germany, and that he encouraged the German Government in 1919 to re-establish a regular army for the purpose of suppressing the Spartakist movement in Germany.

It is clear from Herr Rechberg's statement that one of the chief objects of himself and his associates was to get rid of the disarmament provision of the Treaty of Versailles and to restore conscription in Germany. It is amazing that men like M. Poincaré and Marshal Foch should even have listened to such proposals. The fact that they did shows how much the militarists, even of two hostile countries, have in common. Plainly the scheme was one for the domination of Europe by a great reactionary combination in which France would certainly have become the junior partner. Yet it appears that Herr Rechberg obtained more support in France than in his own country, and that it was through lack of support in Germany that the negotiations broke down.

British Participation

Other clauses of the proposals provided for the maintenance of the western frontiers of Germany, the removal of the French veto in the union of Austria and Germany, and the possibility of the entry of Britain into the proposed alliance. In this connection Herr Rechberg observes that already the British industries are beginning to link themselves up with the French and German industries as shown by the agreement between the chemical industries of the three countries.

"Such an alliance as proposed between France and Germany would enable Germany to hold out the hand of friendship to Poland," concludes Herr Rechberg. "It would restore her credit. French and Germans, we have such a chance now as only comes once in a thousand years. We have it in our power now, without firing a shot, to establish an empire as widespread as that of Charlemagne."

In an earlier statement Herr Rechberg said that he submitted his proposal to M. Poincaré, then Prime Minister of France, early this year. M. Poincaré has stated that he had seen Herr Rechberg, but informed him that negotiations could only be undertaken through the official channels.

The Prince of Wales, at his own request, was made a member of the Post War Brotherhood at a delegate meeting of the federation at Portsmouth, and in an inspiring address spoke of the amazing advantages to be gained by comradeship and good will at a time of national crisis. "One of the lessons they learned from the war," he said, "was that by constant intercourse those brought up in different circumstances from themselves were not such bad fellows after all—in fact, were very good ones. Both Mr. J. H. Thomas and Mr. Neville Chamberlain were made members of the Brotherhood."

SHANGHAI TENNIS STARS

SHOW GOOD FORM IN PRACTICE GAMES

FORMIDABLE COMBINATION

Shanghai tennis stars who arrived here by the s.s. "President McKinley" were busily licking themselves into shape yesterday at the Hong Kong Cricket Club lawns. Several courts were set up for their use, and the invaders gave an excellent exhibition of their prowess in this field of sport. Each one seemed to have a wide repertoire of strokes, and were very active and quick on the return.

Judge from their display, Shanghai have a well-balanced combination, and the male quartette should prove formidable. Our local players will have to fight hard for the laurels.

"Johnny" Wade is still as active as ever. About 18 years ago, he was the pivot of the Shanghai Inter-club football team, playing outside left, with his brother, Tom on the inside. Then he was in his prime and, besides football, he also excelled in various other athletic sports. "Tommy" Wade was the reputed International cross-country in Shanghai in the early days. His record has up to now not been beaten.

Yesterday, John Wade was seen at his best. He has lost nothing in spite of Father Time. He is just as active and energetic as in the days of yore. He is very deadly in his shots and his serving will be a problem to our local cracker.

TENNIS "STAR" WEDS

Miss Eileen Bennett Not To Give Up Career

London, Yesterday.
The lawn tennis "star," Miss Eileen Bennett, was married at St. Margaret's, Westminster, to Mr. Edmund Fearnley Whittingstall, the artist. The bride has announced that the marriage will not interfere with her lawn tennis career. The eight bridesmaids included the daughter of Mr. J. H. Thomas. Many tennis "stars" were among the 500 guests.—Reuter.

MR. H. SMITH RESIGNS

Miners' Leader Cannot Brook Opposition

London, Yesterday.
As a sequel to the miners accepting the Government's coal proposals, to which he was opposed, Mr. Herbert Smith has resigned the presidency of the Miners' Federation. Mr. Thomas Richards has been unanimously selected President by the Executive Federation, pending the annual conference.—Reuter.

The Coal Situation

Rugby, Yesterday.
Mr. Herbert Smith has resigned the presidency of the Miners' Federation. The resignation is a sequel to recent events in connection with the Government's proposals for dealing with the coal situation. On November 7 the conference of miners' delegates in London decided to recommend the miners to accept the Government's proposals. Delegates from Yorkshire, however, headed by Mr. Herbert Smith, who presided at the conference, withdrew without voting, declaring that they had no mandate for this decision, and taking the view that proposals should be referred to the districts without recommendation. Since the conference practically every district council has returned an overwhelming majority in favour of the Government's proposals, but Yorkshire has voted against them. The second delegate conference is to be held to-morrow in London to consider the result of the district vote, and Mr. Smith, as President of the Federation, would have again been chairman. Mr. Thomas Richards has been selected by the Miners' Executive to act provisionally as President of the Federation.—British Wireless Service.

TO DIRECT ATTACK

Generalissimo Awaits the Big Battle

Hankow, Yesterday.
Latest reports from Hanchow indicate that the Generalissimo has shifted his headquarters from Hanchow to Chengchow. It is stated that he is later proceeding to Hsishihwan, personally to direct the coming attack on Loyang. So far there are no signs of uneasiness at Wuhan, nevertheless a big battle is momentarily expected in the vicinity of Siangyang and Fancheng.—Reuter.

Attack on TsaoYang

Hankow, Later.
Reports from various sources confirm the statement that Tengfeng was quietly evacuated by Sun Lian-cheng's forces on November 17 and occupied by National troops the same day. Despite reports to the contrary it is believed that Siangyang is still in Government hands, though the invaders have captured Icheng on the Han River. All available forces, including eight brigades of the Third Division, who have been hurriedly sent up from here, are now concentrating at TsaoYang. It is officially stated that a counter attack against the Kuomintang is immediately being launched at TsaoYang.—Reuter.

IMPERIAL TRADE

Conference To Consider Its Development

London, Yesterday.
In the House of Lords yesterday, in the course of a debate on Empire free trade, initiated by Lord Beaverbrook, Lord Arnold announced that the Government had decided to summon the Imperial economic conference at the earliest convenient date to consider the best means of increasing inter-Imperial trade.—Reuter.

Dearer Prices

Rugby, Yesterday.
Lord Beaverbrook asked in the House of Lords if the Government would do anything to encourage the movement for free trade within the Empire. Lord Arnold, replying for the Government, said they thought the prosperity of the Empire was more likely to be achieved by their policy than by any scheme of Empire free trade, which could not be achieved without first reversing the fiscal policy of the mother country and making it protectionist.

The country had repeatedly refused to desert the policy of free trade. He challenged Lord Beaverbrook to produce the slightest evidence that the Dominions would come into the scheme, which would require them to reverse their fundamental systems of protection. He said that the scheme would mean a rise in the price of foodstuffs, and the Government could not possibly give it any encouragement. They had, however, called an Imperial Economic Conference to consider the means of increasing Imperial trade. Lord Arnold added that the Government were not in favour of any system of preferential tariffs.—British Wireless Service.

TELL-TALE SUITCASE

Ardent "Dry" Agent Faces Liquor Charge

Washington, Yesterday.
A leaking suitcase left at the railway station cloakroom months ago proved embarrassing to Mr. Edward E. Denison, an ardent "dry" representative of Illinois Constituency. The Federal Grand Jury indicted him for the possession of liquor. Denison declares the charge is a "mistake."—Reuter's American Service.

HIS WIFE'S BODY

Why Zoubkoff Was Placed Under Arrest

Cologne, Yesterday.
The police at Bonn state that Zoubkoff was arrested because the authorities feared he would cause a disturbance at his wife's funeral. Zoubkoff, when examined by the magistrate, claimed that he had a right to the body of his wife, and would dispose of it as he thought fit. It is anticipated that he will shortly be expelled from Germany.—Reuter.

TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS

Infection In The Glands

RADICAL EXCISION ADVOCATED

"Plus en change plus c'est la meme chose" is an adage which, if not true of all medical problems, can certainly be applied to the methods of treating tuberculous glands in the neck. Some thirty years ago a radical enucleation of the glands was the accepted routine practice; there followed a vogue of conservative methods, of which the most important was based on removing the supposed primary focus of infection and relying on the natural or stimulated resistance to overcome infection in the glands. Other procedures were often empirical, but in general fell into line with methods used in the treatment of other types of tuberculous infection. Conservative measures have been given a fair trial, and still have ardent advocates; if, however, we accept the evidence which Mr. Gordon Bruce gives in the present issue of the British Medical Journal (p. 1030), it would appear that the full circle has been turned, and that surgical treatment is once again to be regarded as the method of choice for the majority of established infections.

Study of 330 Cases
Mr. Bruce basing his conclusions on a study of 330 cases of cervical adenitis treated during four consecutive years at Aberdeen, strongly advocates the radical excision of glands diagnosed as tuberculous in which there is clinical evidence of caseation. From his investigations he is satisfied that this condition is present in all glands which have been subject to alternate attacks of swelling and periods of quiescence. He finds that removal of diseased tonsils has no marked effect on the glandular condition, and is frankly sceptical of the value of heliotherapy in relation to the local condition of all but early cases. In support of the latter view he quotes Dr. Margaret Tod, who, in surveying a group of cases treated by this means in Edinburgh, stated that in no case had it effected a cure.

A Sound Procedure
If these gland infections are recognised as being local rather than systematic in nature, the radical removal of the diseased tissue, so far as is practicable, presents itself as a sound procedure. Mr. Gordon Bruce is clearly of the opinion that few cases of tuberculous adenitis are blood infections, adding as evidence the fact that in 306 per cent. of his series the infection was apparently limited to the gland area operated on. In no case belonging to this group was there found evidence of tuberculous infection elsewhere before or after operation. The argument for radical excision is further supported by the view that once caseation is well established complete resolution without operation does not occur. In this event removal of a primary focus of infection, such as the tonsil, cannot be expected to do more than prevent further infection. There is no doubt that in many cases apparently cured by conservative methods the infection in the glands has been not tuberculous, but streptococcal. Streptococcal infections may precede or accompany tuberculous infection in some instances, or they may be the sole lesion in chronically enlarged glands. In general they are present in the early stage, but many remain dormant for a considerable time, causing a flare-up in the wound after a radical operation. It is interesting to note that in 187 operations performed by Mr. Bruce 9 patients developed secondary streptococcal infection of a severity which was thought worth recording.

Different Clinical Courses
It has been a matter of discussion how far conclusions based on the results obtained in the treatment of tuberculosis in Scotland are valid in England. There is evidence that the clinical course of tuberculosis in Scotland, differs from that in the south; moreover, in Scotland, in both bone and gland disease, there is a higher incidence of infection with the bovine organism. In his report to the Science Committee of the British Medical Association, published in the "British Medical Journal" of January 17, 1914 (p. 125), Philip Mitchell made the following statement: "Cow's milk containing bovine tubercle bacilli is clearly the cause of 90 per cent. of the cases of tuberculous cervical glands in infants and children residing in Edinburgh and district, and is responsible for by far the larger proportion of tuberculous cervical glands in children during the milk-drinking period of life (0 to 5 years)." There does not appear to be any conclusive evidence as to the exact type of organism responsible for adenitis in the southern area of Britain.

Important Conclusions
Mr. Gordon Bruce's most important conclusions are that glands in the neck remaining persistently enlarged after three months are nearly always tuberculous in nature, and that if there is clinical evidence of their having undergone caseation the most satisfactory results are obtained by their enucleation. The complications of extracapsular abscess and sinus formation handicap the surgeon in his dissection; they do not contraindicate operation, but lead to a lower standard of final results, both as to scar condition and permanency. These views are worth careful study; certainly most surgeons at the present time, though they would probably give conservative methods a trial for longer than three months, tend to conform to them. The surgery of the radical operation is not simple; injuries to important nerve and major blood vessels have not always been avoided, and in this connection Mr. Bruce's paper contains a considerable amount of interesting detail.—British Medical Journal.

BRITISH POLICY

Danger Of Dictation From The Admiralty

Washington, Yesterday.
Mr. Stimson today states that there is no reason to believe that Rear-Admiral Hillyar Jones has changed his mind about accompanying Mr. Stimson to the Five Power Conference as an adviser.

The "New York Evening Telegram," commenting on prevalent rumours about Rear-Admiral Hillyar Jones, says that the most serious aspect of the gossip is its effect upon London. The journal adds: "While there has never been much chance of an Admiral's dictating American policy, there is a real danger of the Admiralty dominating British policy, in a similar manner to what it did at the Geneva Conference. If there is to be a cruiser reduction Mr. Ramsay MacDonald must shake the Admiralty from the seat of power that it long ago usurped."

"The obstacles ahead are, however, in no way lessened by the confidence of President Hoover and his associates in the success of the Conference. The chief obstacles are the question of parity of the Italian and French navies and the Japanese desire for a cruiser ratio of 7 to 10 with Britain and the United States, instead of 3 to 5 as laid down for capital ships at the Washington Conference."

"The most serious obstacle is that of submarine limitation. The White House, however, refuses to be daunted by the difficulties ahead."—Reuter's American Service.

REPLACING BRUCE

The "Rebels" Discuss Forming New Party

Canberra, Yesterday.
Mr. J. G. Latham ex-Attorney-General, was today elected leader of the Federal Nationalist Party in succession to Mr. Bruce.

Mr. Maxwell, who was expelled from the Party yesterday, entered today's meeting, and denounced Mr. Bruce for wrecking the Government and degrading the Party. Mr. Hughes, Mr. Maxwell, and other "rebels" subsequently met and discussed the formation of a new party.

A further evidence of the Nationalist Party disruption is the resignation of Senator Maxey Greene.

TUNG WAH HOSPITAL

Review Of Its History For 59 Years

"A HOUSEHOLD NAME"

From the Directors of the Tung Wah Hospital the "China Mail" has received a reprint of the Commission appointed in 1896 to enquire into the working and organisation of the Tung Wah Hospital, with an introductory note, and a Chinese translation which should be read with considerable interest.

We quote the introductory note:—

Fifty-nine years have passed since the foundation stone of the Tung Wah Hospital was laid by His Excellency Sir Richard Macdonnell, the then Governor of Hong Kong, on the 9th April, 1870; and to-day the Hospital is, in the words of our present Governor, Sir Cecil Clementi, "a household name, not only in Hong Kong, but in China and among the Chinese overseas." The history of the Institution, and from its incorporation to the present time, would be of permanent interest, but the materials necessary for its compilation have not been preserved in the archives of the Hospital. Fortunately Mr. Chan Yik-wan, who has been secretary to the Hospital since 1899, and whose knowledge of its affairs has been of service to us, was able to find, amongst his own papers, copies of the "Ching Shun Luk" from 1895 onwards, from which we have extracted certain data (printed at the end of this Report) which provided an illuminating account of the growth of the Institution from that time to the present.

CLOUDS AND STORMS

The Hospital, like many other institutions of its kind, has had to face some passing clouds, if not storms; for instance, the Plague Epidemic of 1894 evoked a great deal of attention and much adverse criticism on the Institution. This and other matters led to the appointment, in 1896, by His Excellency Sir William Robinson, K.C.M.G., the then Governor, of a Commission to enquire into, and report on, the working of the Hospital.

The first meeting of the Commission was held on the 14th February, 1896; and the Report, consisting of a Majority and two Minority Reports, together with the evidence and appendices, was published in 1896. Unfortunately it is out of print: it has in fact become a rare document. We have, however, managed to secure the loan of a copy from the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, and from it we have had reprinted the Reports of the Commissioners, with the addition of a Chinese translation thereof. Owing to their voluminousness, the evidence and the appendices have not been included in the reprint.

ORIGIN OF INCORPORATION

The Report throws interesting light on the origin of the Hospital's incorporation: it shows that the main object was to replace the "Tsz" or Chinese Hospital, concerning which there were, in the year previous, some horrible disclosures of "heartless cruelty and filth" which shocked the conscience of the community. It made various recommendations for the improvement of the Hospital, which were subsequently acted on and carried out. In this connection attention may be drawn to clause 45 of the Majority Report, and particularly to its concluding sentence:—

"At the same time we think that it would be of advantage to the Hospital, would facilitate its relations with the Government and the public, and would secure continuity and uniformity in its arrangements, if there were associated with the annually elected Committee some Chinese residents of long standing who have had experience of the Hospital and whose advice would be respected by, and whose views would carry weight with, the Chinese community."

It was thus that the "permanent advisers to the Tung Wah Hospital" came into being—and they have been a tower of strength to its management. To their sound advice and valuable assistance, the Hospital is under a debt of gratitude, and in this respect we would like to take this opportunity of recording our humble acknowledgments to the present permanent advisers, the Hon. Sir Shou-son Chow, the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotowall, C.M.G., the Hon. Dr. S. W. To, O.B.E., Sir Robert Ho Tung, and Messrs. Li Yau-tsun, C.B.E.; Wong Kwong-kin, Lo Cheung-shu, Li Kwai and Fung Ping-shan.

PERMANENT ADVISERS

Alone for the part it took in bringing into existence the office of "permanent advisers"—which has had such a potent and beneficent effect on the subsequent career of the Institution—the Report should not be allowed to fall into oblivion. But apart from this, and from its other historical data and its practical recommendations, the Report appears to us to be of such absorbing interest as constituting one of the turning points in the history of the Institution that we feel that it deserves to be preserved, and to be more widely known than it is. A portrait of the Report, and of the extracts printed at the end of this note, must, it is to be hoped, very forcibly as to the great strides before the Commissioners we should like to add one word by way of corrective. If the Hospital was, prior to 1896, in a somewhat unsatisfactory condition in so far as scientific ideas of hygiene, etc., were concerned, it was doubtless no worse than many other institutions of its kind elsewhere. The science of Health and Healing has developed so rapidly even within the last generation that we, as laymen, can have no proper conception of the appalling state of surgery in the days immediately before the advent of Lister whose researches on putrefaction did not commence until after 1863. Then, many hospitals, even in Europe, could hardly have been in a much better condition than the Tung Wah of those days. Let us, for instance, quote from the Editorials of that interesting local literary effort "The Caduceus," of July 27, 1927, at page 108, with reference to this period:—

"Surgery at this time was at its lowest ebb. In the words of one of the living well-known surgeon (Sir Charles Ballance who had seen those days): 'All operations were followed by sepsis, suppuration, cellulitis, erysipelas, septicaemia or pyaemia. Some hospitals on the Continent were closed because Hospital gangrene and death followed operative intervention. The Hotel Dieu in Paris, like all other hospitals, was a hotbed of sepsis, and it was remarked that the inscription over its door 'This is the house of God, and the Gate of Heaven' was more literally true than its founder appreciated.'"

REMARKABLE PROGRESS

Viewed in its proper perspective and in retrospect, the history of the Institution is a history of remarkable and continuous progress. From its humble beginning as a healing centre employing crude native methods and using herbal medicine, the Tung Wah has steadily risen to its present proud position of the leading Chinese hospital in South China, with modern equipments and appliances and up-to-date methods of Chinese and Western medical treatment. This happy result represents the collective and unremitting efforts of the successive Boards of Directors, aided by the advice and assistance of the permanent advisers and of the Hong Kong Government. To the high administrative ability and the unselfish devotion of all those Directors who have preceded us, and whose footsteps we would fain in some measure to follow, we desire here to record an expression of sincere and humble tribute.
